

SAVE THESE DATES!
SEPTEMBER 26-28, 2008

A CONFERENCE TO HONOR
THE WORK OF
WILLIAM M. GARDNER

National Conservation Training Center
Shepherdstown, West Virginia

Featuring sessions with papers and discussions on a variety of topics, issues, and controversies reflecting the interests of one of the major pioneers of Middle Atlantic Region archaeology.

Schedule

FRIDAY, September 26 - MORNING & AFTERNOON

Working the System: CRM, Historic Preservation, and Substantive Contributions to Research

FRIDAY, September 26 - EVENING

Bringing It Back: Education and the Public in Archaeology and Historic Preservation

SATURDAY, September 27 - MORNING

The Inescapable Significance of Cultural Ecology and Environmental Sciences in Archaeology

SATURDAY, September 27 - AFTERNOON

Paleoindian Studies

SATURDAY, September 27 - EVENING

Banquet and Reminiscences on a Career

The Venue: The National Conservation Training Center is a premier educational facility in a rustic rural setting along the Potomac River. The campus includes 5 miles of footpaths - an outstanding environment for bird-watching, jogging, and nature photography. The bar in the unique timberframe lodge is a natural gathering spot. Nearby Shepherdstown offers shopping, historic attractions, dining and entertainment.

Updates and details: www.valleyconservation.org/gardner.html

Conference registration: $35

Accommodations: $119/person/day includes meal plan

R. Michael Stewart
Program Chair
mschurch@verizon.net

Carole Nash
Arrangements
nashcl@jmu.edu
540.432.6864

Heather Wholey
Exhibits
HWholey@wcupa.edu